The author retains copyright and moral rights in the work. Upon acceptance of the work for publication, the author consents to its first publication and grants the Ban Dvor Association a non-exclusive right to exploit the published version of the work in electronic form, including reproduction, distribution, communication to the public and making it available to the public. The work is published under the Creative Commons 4.0 (CC BY 4.0) licence, which permits sharing and adaptation of the work with appropriate acknowledgement of the author, the title of the work, the source of first publication and the licence. Following publication, the author may enter into other non-exclusive agreements for distribution of the published version, including deposit in a repository or publication in a book, provided that its first publication in Ban Dvor is acknowledged.

By signing this Declaration, I confirm and warrant the following:

Authorship and consent: The manuscript is the author's original work or the jointly authored work of all named authors. As the signatory to this Declaration, where the work has co-authors, I am authorised to sign the Declaration on their behalf and warrant their consent to the content of the manuscript, the order in which the authors are listed, and the submission and publication of the work.

Originality and prior publication: The manuscript has not previously been published, in whole or in part, in electronic or print form, and will not be submitted to or published by another publisher during the editorial and peer-review process.

Acknowledgement of sources: All wording, findings, data and portions of other works used in the manuscript are appropriately identified and accompanied by full bibliographic details. The manuscript contains no unacknowledged material taken from the previously published works of others or from the author's own previously published works.

Research integrity: The data and results presented originate from the research conducted and have not been fabricated, falsified, improperly altered or presented in a misleading manner.

Use of artificial intelligence (AI): I confirm that any use of generative artificial intelligence during the research and preparation of the work has complied with the rules of the Ban Dvor journal.  Rules

Funding and conflicts of interest: All sources of funding and potential conflicts of interest are disclosed in the manuscript or accompanying documentation. If there is no conflict of interest, the author explicitly confirms this.

Third-party rights: The necessary permissions have been obtained, and the sources have been correctly acknowledged, for texts, images, tables, charts and other material protected by third-party rights.

Lawfulness and liability: The manuscript does not infringe copyright, related rights or other third-party rights and contains no unlawful content. The author has obtained the necessary permissions for the material used and will notify the Editorial Board without delay of any third-party claim. The author is liable to the publisher, the Ban Dvor Association, for damages and necessary costs arising from any infringement of third-party rights for which the author is responsible.

Consent to publication: I consent to the publication of the work in Ban Dvor, its public availability and its distribution in accordance with the CC BY 4.0 licence. No fee or other remuneration is payable to the author for publication of the work.
